Suspect Held on New Charge

A Manchester man who was arrested in connection with a shooting incident earlier this month is now being held on a new charge.

On June 22, 2022, 27 year old Corey Raikes was additionally charged with 2 counts of Possession of a Controlled Drug with the Intent to Sell. This charge also stems from the same June 10th shooting incident.

On that date, Manchester Police responded to a residence in the area of Bell St and Hall St for a report of a 35-year old pregnant woman who had been shot..

Through the investigation police learned that the victim was struck when a bullet entered her home. Evidence indicated that the gunshot came from the area of 292 Belmont St. As part of this investigation, police went to an apartment in that building. When officers attempted to contact the people inside, all were uncooperative and barricaded themselves inside. Manchester Police SWAT responded and located five individuals, including Raikes in the apartment. They were all arrested and charged with Resisting Arrest.

At the time of this incident, Raikes was out on bail on a Felony Domestic Violence charge. In March, he was also given suspended sentences for Felony Reckless Conduct and Felon in Possession of a Deadly Weapon. Today Raikes was arraigned and held on a preventative detention pending another hearing.
